1. LEARN RUSSIAN AND PREPARE FOR STUDIES IF NECESSARY

The language of instruction at Gubkin University is Russian. To enter an academic program at Gubkin University it is required to pass a Russian proficiency test. There are several ways to study Russian language:

- pass the Test of Russian as a Foreign Language (TRFL) in the training and testing language center for foreigners in your country founded by Rossotrudnichestvo or in Moscow . (<http://rs.gov.ru/ru/contacts>).

The university accepts TRFL certificate as the result of the entrance test. It must be at least the first level of proficiency in Russian as a foreign language. The first level is equal to 50 points in the Russian language, the second – up to 70 points, the third – up to 85 points, the fourth – up to 100 points.

- take classes offered by the Preparatory Faculty (Department) of Gubkin University;

Gubkin University offers the Preparatory Course for foreign citizens. The training period of the Preparatory Course continues for 12 months.

The language training program given by the Preparatory Department (programs of additional education)

Bachelor's program applicants study:

- Russian Language
- Mathematics
- Physics
- Chemistry
- Computer Science
- Drawing
- History
- Geography
- Social Science

Upon the completion of the preparatory course, students are required to take exams. When all the exams are passed successfully and the admissions office gives recommendation to enter, applicants are enrolled in a Bachelor's/ Master's / Postgraduate degree programs.

Keep it in mind that you must study diligently during the preparatory year and pass all exams to receive a Certificate.

If you do not pass all the credits and exams, the University will just provide you with a paper that says you have been a student but have not completed the Russian language course.

Be aware that only the certificate gives you the right to enroll in higher education programs.

Taking Preparatory Course enables applicants to integrate smoothly into life in the University and Russia, find out more information about the University, attend Open Days and choose the academic program.

Who does not need to take a Preparatory course to study Russian?

If you are a citizen of Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) countries, the Baltics (Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania), the Ukraine or Georgia you are allowed to take entrance exam for the Russian language without the completion of the Preparatory course. As a rule, these countries speak Russian as they were a part of the USSR.

To apply for admission to the Preparatory Department applicants are requested to contact the International Students Office via email: dis@gubkin.ru and submit the required documents (see Section 2).

Who can study for free?

Foreign citizens and stateless persons are entitled to obtaining higher education at the expense of budget allocations in accordance with international treaties of the Russian Federation, federal laws or established by the Government of the Russian Federation with a quota for the education of foreign citizens and persons without citizenship (hereinafter referred to as the quota for the education of foreign citizens), as well as at the expense of individuals and legal entities in accordance with contracts for the provision of paid educational services.

Admission to study within the quota for the education of foreign citizens carried out in accordance with the directions of the federal body of the executive power, which performs the functions of developing state policy and legal regulation in the field of education. Enrollment for studies within the education quota for foreign citizens is carried out by a separate order (orders) of the Russian State University oil and gas named after I. M. Gubkin.

Foreign citizens and stateless persons who are compatriots living abroad have the right to obtaining higher education on a par with citizens of the Russian Federations, subject to their compliance with the requirements stipulated in the article 17 of the Federal Law of May 24, 1999 No. 99-FZ “On state policy of the Russian Federation regarding Compatriots Abroad” (hereinafter referred to as Federal Law No. 99-FZ).

For compatriots living abroad and who are not citizens of the Russian Federation, special rights do not apply when admission to bachelor’s (undergraduate) and specialty programs, provided in accordance with the Federal Law No. 273-FZ, unless otherwise provided by an international agreement of the Russian Federation.

You can contact the Representative Office of the organization "Rossotrudnichestvo" in your state or the Embassy of the Russian Federation in your state and apply for a quota of the Government of the Russian Federation (scholarships, budget places). You can also indicate the need for a preparatory year of the Russian language in the application.
